

DIETRICH KLINGE

12th November – 24th January 2008

Espressivity, Strength, Power and Lushness are definitely the attributes that suit most to describe the sculptures of the internationally renown German artist Dietrich Klinge. His interpretation of the human body does not fit into one certain category, in fact his sculptures mirror the artist's constant reflection and inspiration, that he gains from the different periods of art-history and non-European cultures.

From November 12th 2008 until January 24th 2009, DIE GALERIE will present large, medium-sized and small sculptures of Dietrich Klinge in a large exhibition in its own show-rooms in Frankfurt on the Main.

The opening will be taking place on November 12th 2008 from 6.30 p. m. The artist will be present.

A bilingual catalogue (German/ Italian) has been published.

Simultaneously to this exhibition, monumental sculptures of Dietrich Klinge will be shown until December 31st 2008 in the Archeological Garden in Frankfurt, located between Römerberg and Schirn.
